

General Conference

Wall

Created by Montserrat at CranialHiccups.com

Print out the posters and hang on your wall near where you watch General Conference. Give everyone their own color of post-it notes and a pen. During each talk each person takes notes in their General Conference notebook. At the end of the talk they each write one or two important things they learned on their post-it note then stick the note on the right poster with the picture of the speaker. Extra posters are provided to write in the name of other speakers. You'll need to print extra copies of those pages. Use to review General Conference for Family Home Evening.
